Dear Frank,

We at the Aligarh Alumni Association, Washington, DC, are delighted to learn that AMU has decided to confer on you the degree of Doctor of Literature, Honoris Causa, in recognition of your extraordinary contributions to the University, service to the community and the cause of education in general. This honor has been further amplified with the University naming you as the keynote speaker at its 63rd Annual Convention in February, a rare distinction.

The AMU alumni can take collective pride in the fact that a son and a product of our University has achieved remarkable success in life, and has generously donated funds to further and greatly expand the academic facilities at his alma mater, reminiscent of the benefactors who supported the nascent MOA College in the late nineteenth century. Your recognition by the AMU is also a testimony to the fact that besides imparting academic excellence, it instills in its students the noble ideals of compassion, public service and an obligation to helping others.

We, of course, are very mindful of your support extended over many years to the AAA, especially its scholarship program designed to promote education through grants to deserving students at Indian educational institutions.

Finally, we celebrate your achievements and rejoice in the honors conferred on you.

Congratulations and best wishes,

Farzana Farooqi
President
